- Title: Online Grocery application
- Technology: python, tkinter
- Description: The Online Grocery Application project involves developing a platform where users can browse, select, and purchase groceries online.

The application typically features user accounts, product catalogs, a search function, shopping carts, and secure payment gateways.

- Title: Feed the needy
- Technology: java
- Description: In our "Feed the Needy" project, we created a Java application to streamline the process of food donation and distribution. We designed it so donors can easily list and manage their contributions, volunteers can coordinate deliveries, and administrators can oversee everything. Our system tracks food recipients and generates reports to help improve distribution efficiency. By using Java and a database, we've made it easier to manage operations and engage the community in addressing food insecurity.
